

GRADUATE SEMINAR IN HISTORY 1680-1850

Michaelmas Term 2022

The seminar will meet weekly, with talks usually starting on Tuesdays at 4.15 p.m. For those who wish to attend in person, our regular venue will be the Beckington Room, Lincoln College, except in 2nd week when we will meet in the Oakeshott Room (ask at the college lodge for directions). Tea and coffee will be available from 4.00 pm. For those who cannot make it to Lincoln, the talks will be available on Teams, and contact perry.gauci@lincoln.ox.ac.uk for access-links. In 8th week, wine-tasting will accompany the talk, and further details about this session will follow for seminar regulars. All research students working in this period are encouraged to attend; anyone else interested is very welcome.

11 th October (1 st week)	Introductory Party
18 th October (2 nd week) N. B. Oakeshott Room	Ailsa Maxwell (Keble) The Refinement of Children: Engagements with Food Culture in Eighteenth-Century Britain
25 th October (3 rd week)	Sara Caputo (Cambridge) Foreign Jack Tars: The British Navy and Transnational Labour, 1793-1815
1 st November (4 th week)	Paige Emerick (Leicester) George IV's State Visits and Perceptions of National Identities
8 th November (5 th week)	Matt Roberts (Cambridge) 'Where Streets continually change Fashion, you should make Haste to chain up the City; for 'tis certainly mad': Changing Townscapes in the English Press, 1690–1750
15 th November (6 th week)	Leif Hammer (Magdalen) 'Decline' and the Cultural History of the Eighteenth-century University
22 nd November (7 th week)	Joint-meeting with the Irish History Seminar Martyn Powell (Bristol) Wolfe Tone and the Hibernian Catch-Club: Sociability in Revolutionary Dublin
29 th November (8 th week)	Graham Harding (St Cross) A Bottled History of Champagne, with tasting

For information about the seminar, and news of forthcoming events, visit our Facebook page: <https://www.facebook.com/pages/Oxford-seminar-in-mainly-British-History-1680-1850/123050627891042> We would be happy to post notices of interest to our group – contact perry.gauci@lincoln.ox.ac.uk

Hannah Smith (St. Hilda's); Kiran Mehta (Worcester); B. Harris (Worcester); P. Gauci (Lincoln)